

WHO ARE WE?

The team of consultants covers a wide range of experience - urban design, architecture, community consultation and development, engineering, landscape design, employment creation, economic regeneration and estate management.

The team is led by architects MacCormac Jamieson Prichard (MJP) with partner David Prichard heading up the Masterplan design team. They will be working with Dublin based architects O'Mahony Pike who will co-ordinate the process on the ground.

Staff of O'Mahony Pike the Dublin based architects who will be co-ordinating the project.

Other team members are:

DH Regeneration
Stephanie Al-Wahid
Tenant consultation and community development

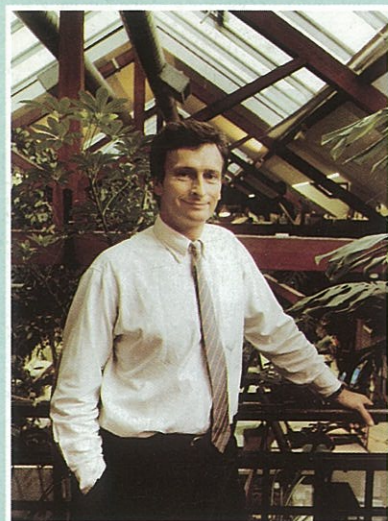

Dearle and Henderson
Peter Hancock
Quantity surveying and cost control

Halcrow Fox
Mick Yaxley
Economic development and inward investment

McHugh Consulting
Bernard McHugh
Land use options

Brady Shipman Martin
David Bagnall
Landscape architects

Muir Associates
Tom Walsh
Underground services and infrastructure

David Prichard who is heading up the Masterplan design team

For more information about the project please come to the Ballymun Planning Day at the Shopping Centre on Saturday 29 November or call Ciaran Murray at Ballymun Regeneration Ltd (BRL) on 842 1144.

A New Vision for Ballymun

In March this year the Government gave the go ahead for the complete redevelopment of Ballymun. This followed intense local campaigning by community groups and activists on the estate.

To undertake this massive project a new company has been set up - Ballymun Regeneration Ltd (BRL) - with representatives from the Task Force, the Ballymun Partnership, the Corporation and from health, education and business. Working for the company are a team of consultants who have carried out this scale of redevelopment elsewhere and who will work with residents over the coming months to develop a strategic Masterplan for Ballymun.

The Masterplan must have the long term support of the community. There must be a vision and understanding shared by the community, the consultants and BRL. We hope to draw on the extensive knowledge of the Task Force and other community organisations in our work.

The Masterplan must be flexible so that future changes and opportunities can be accommodated. It will cover every aspect of the estate such as buildings and landscaping, proposals for new development, plans for the management of the estate, and for training, employment and recreation. It will also look at the plans land owners around Ballymun have for development as these may affect the estate. It provides an important beginning in describing the sort of place Ballymun will one day become. But it is only the beginning of a design process which will need to involve everybody and will continue until the redevelopment is finished.

BALLYMUN
PLANNING DAY
29 NOVEMBER
The Shopping Centre
(formerly Perrys
Department Store)
Come and have your say about the future of
YOUR home
(See insert for details)

Ballymun

